INNOVATE. LEAD. TRANSFORM.

SINGAPORE

Singapore is an important financial, trade, and shipping hub in the Asia-Pacific region. As a multiracial and multi-cultural country, it brings together Western and Eastern, contemporary and traditional cultures, which has allowed it to develop a unique and respected education system. Singapore is ranked as the best in attracting talent for 7 years in a row¹.

Singapore is on par with international cities such as London, Tokyo, and New York in being one of the most active international financial centres in the world. According to the 2024 IMD World Competitiveness Ranking, Singapore has retained its top spot as the world's most competitive economy. Singapore has also ranked among the most liveable cities in Asia².

As an important developed country in the Asia-Pacific region, Singapore is the perfect base for tapping into Asia's growth and connecting to the world. Singapore was the fourth largest recipient of foreign direct investment in the world³ and was regarded as the most attractive country for multinational companies to set up Asia-Pacific regional headquarters, with some 4,200 regional headquarters in this small country⁴. The vibrant international business, research, and innovative environment provides students with many opportunities for global exposure and career development.

GLOBAL FINANCIAL MARKET INSIGHTS AND PERSPECTIVES

Students gain global financial market insights through the programme's seminars, workshops, and Student Industry Field Trips (SIFT) in China and Singapore. These activities offer firsthand exposure to various financial markets and institutions, and provide networking opportunities with industry experts, potential employers, and alumni.

ROBUST EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

NBS has world-class faculty with strong academic credentials and extensive industry experience. The school leverages resources and partners with top institutions like Peking University, Shanghai Jiao Tong University, Carnegie Mellon University, ESSEC, and Waseda University. Additionally, the NBS Alumni Association supports a 65,000-strong international community with professional resources and continuous learning opportunities.

“ The programme has been incredibly beneficial. The structured curriculum and insightful professorial guidance enhanced my understanding of financial theory and its practical applications. The instructors have also provided valuable assistance beyond academics. The GSCDO has been instrumental, offering diverse internship and job opportunities and personalised interview coaching that significantly aided my job search in Singapore. Overall, this has been a transformative journey.
