

NANYANG TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY
NANYANG BUSINESS SCHOOL
BF4001 Industry Seminar

A) Course Aims/Description

The industry seminar series will offer students professional insights and industry perspectives to international trading. The course will serve to link theory with practice, bringing real-world cases and industry practices into the classroom. Students can expect to better appreciate how international trading concepts and principles are applied in different aspects of the trading and commodities sector.

B) Intended Learning Outcomes (ILO)/Objectives

By the end of this course, you (as a student) would be able to:

1. Knowledge: Identify the actual operations of the commodities trading value chain from the perspective of industry practitioners.

C) Course Content

Attend 3 Industry seminars. These seminars will cover the three major sectors in the commodity market, namely agriculture, oil and metals.

BF4001 is a pass/fail course.

D) Assessment (includes both continuous and summative assessment)

Component	Weightage	Team/Individual
5 questions MCQ quiz after each seminar	100%	Individual
Total	100%

E) Planned Weekly Schedule

There is no fixed weekly plan for BF4001.

Industry seminar talks will be conducted in the evenings within the semester while Overseas Experiential Learning Trip will be conducted during the recess week. The proposed seminars schedule will be arranged with the guest speakers prior to the start of semester.

Week	Topic
4	Seminar Talk 1
9	Seminar Talk 2
13	Seminar Talk 3